Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in distressed securities which carry a significant risk of capital loss. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in certain securities listed in China which can involve significant regulatory constraints that may affect the liquidity and/or the investment performance of the fund. Investments in debt instruments which are of lower credit quality may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Fund Strategy

This benchmark-aware fund takes over/underweight country level positions and bases its risk positioning on proprietary country assessments that consider both fundamentals and relative value. Additionally, the macroeconomic environment and technical factors are considered in portfolio construction. The manager may invest in off-benchmark countries and corporate debt and portfolio composition may deviate from the benchmark in credit quality, duration, issuer, and country positions when conviction is high. The fund meets Article 8 requirements and promotes environmental, social, and good governance practices.
